About CST

A Regional Tony Award recipient, Chicago Shakespeare Theater produces a bold and innovative year-round season—featuring plays, musicals, world premieres, family productions, and theatrical presentations from around the globe—alongside education programming for students, teachers, and lifelong learners, and engagement with communities and artists across the city.

Founded in 1986, the Theater has evolved and expanded to present as many as twenty productions and 650 performances annually, and has been honored with numerous national and international awards. Chicago Shakespeare is the city's leading presenter of international work and has toured its own productions to five continents. Dedicated to welcoming the next generation of theatergoers, one in four audience members is under the age of eighteen.

Recognized as a national leader in a 2014 White House ceremony, the Theater's arts-in-literacy programs support the work in classrooms across the region by bringing words to life onstage for tens of thousands of students each year and through a variety of professional learning opportunities for teachers. Its free citywide Chicago Shakespeare in the Parks program has fostered creative community engagement for more than a decade.

As a nonprofit organization, Chicago Shakespeare works to embrace diversity in all its forms, prioritize radical inclusion, provide equitable opportunities for growth and success, and offer an accessible experience for all. The Theater strives to engage today's artists and audiences in active and critical conversations with the work of its namesake playwright, William Shakespeare.

Located on Chicago's iconic Navy Pier, Chicago Shakespeare's campus features the Jentes Family Courtyard Theater, The Yard at Chicago Shakespeare, and the Thoma Theater Upstairs. Onstage, in classrooms and neighborhoods across the city, and in venues around the world, Chicago Shakespeare is a multifaceted cultural hub—inviting audiences, artists, and community members to share powerful stories that connect and inspire us. ■

WHO IS JAN KARSKI?

“All I can say is that I saw it, and it is the truth.” —Jan Karski

Jan Karski was a courier for the Polish Underground resistance during World War II. In 1942, Karski volunteered to walk through the Warsaw Ghetto and a Nazi extermination camp before traveling to London to report to the Allied Nations on the conditions of occupied Poland and, specifically, the Holocaust. He personally delivered his eyewitness account—and urgent appeal for intervention on behalf of the Jewish people—to British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and later, President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the White House. His report was ignored.

After the war, Karski earned his PhD at Georgetown University, where he was a beloved professor in the School of Foreign Service for 40 years. Considering himself largely a failure and “an insignificant little man,” Karski didn’t share his story for decades until filmmaker Claude Lanzmann persuaded him to speak of his experiences for the first time in the celebrated documentary Shoah. Karski was made an honorary citizen of Israel and was awarded the distinction “Righteous Among the Nations” by Yad Vashem. Karski died in Washington, DC, in July 2000. He was awarded a posthumous Presidential Medal of Freedom by President Barack Obama at a White House ceremony on May 29, 2012.

THE PLAY'S DEVELOPMENT

The theatrical production of Remember This: The Lesson of Jan Karski, written by Clark Young and Derek Goldman and directed by Goldman, was produced by The Laboratory for Global Performance and Politics at Georgetown University. Originally conceived as an ensemble production starring David Strathairn, the play was first performed in its current form as a solo performance in November 2019 as a featured part of the Centennial Celebration Weekend of Georgetown's School of Foreign Service, and then in London in January 2020 as part of the 75th Anniversary Commemoration of the Liberation of Auschwitz, in partnership with Human Rights Watch, after which it was invited for performances at leading theaters and festivals around the world. These plans were delayed due to COVID-19. The professional premiere of the current production took place at Shakespeare Theatre Company in Washington, DC last month; the current Chicago run is the production's second engagement. The team plans to continue to share the production with audiences around the country and globally.

The play's success has launched an accompanying educational platform piloted at Georgetown University entitled “Bearing Witness: The Legacy of Jan Karski Today.” The course allows students to explore their own applications of Karski's legacy in the context of their lives as they follow in Karski's example to continue to “shake the conscience of the world.” Students have responded passionately to the contemporary resonance of Karski's story, and The Lab is working to scale this curriculum to be available to young people around the world.

The play was also made into a feature film shot in black-and-white to be released in 2022, executive produced by award-winning producer Eva Anisko.

A special illustrated volume of the play has just been published by Georgetown University Press and is available in the theater lobby and through online booksellers. The volume includes contributions on Karski from Madeleine Albright, former US Secretary of State; Samantha Power, USAID Administrator and former US Ambassador to the UN; Aminatta Forna, OBE, award-winning author; Azar Nafisi, New York Times best-selling author of Reading Lolita in Tehran; Stuart Eizenstat, former US Ambassador to the EU and Holocaust restitution expert; Deborah Tannen, New York Times best-selling author; Timothy Snyder, leading author and historian; Amb. Cynthia Schneider, American Diplomat and co-founder of The Lab; and Father Leo J. O'Donovan, former GU President.

A NOTE FROM DIRECTOR AND CO-AUTHOR DEREK GOLDMAN

Jan Karski's story speaks to the importance of moral courage; of bearing witness to history; of respect for others, especially those who are different; of the responsibility to question; and of the role of the individual in speaking out, even when the message is not “convenient.” He bore witness to the worst of humanity and saw firsthand what happens when nationalism and populism turn to extremism. Despite seeing himself as a failure, he devoted his life to teaching young people, and sought to enlighten the world about what he had witnessed and attempted to expose.

It is especially gratifying for our team to now be teaching a course at Georgetown on Karski centered around the production and to witness how students today are grappling with and inspired by the lessons of Karski's life. As Karski did, we are living through a time characterized by unprecedented challenges. The example of Jan Karski speaks directly to our current moment, and his is an inspiring and timely account of the importance of individual responsibility and moral action in the face of hatred and injustice. It is our hope that the play offers audiences intimate and enduring access to Karski's singular life and that, through it, Karski will inspire others to stand for justice and do what is right. ■

The point of it all? Helping each other. Through it all.[®]

Some things are inevitable. Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois understands that through every stage of life, there will be high points we'll remember forever, but we'll also be there to get through the low ones together. And how we endure those challenges will always depend on the commitment we have to ourselves and to each other. Knowing you have the right partners by your side makes all the difference. The ones who always lift each other up, no matter the circumstance. Through it all.
